Financial and Production Management Seminar Registration

This course in financial and production management assists farmers in goal-setting, maintaining and using financial and production records in decision-making; analyzing income statements, balance sheets, cash flow statements, and tracking of production records to identify problems, evaluate alternatives, and make necessary adjustments in the operation. To begin the course, mail payment and registration form as instructed below. You can also register by phone if you are making a credit card payment. Course packets are usually shipped daily via U.S. Mail. It is a requirement of Rural Services that an attempt be made to complete the seminar 8 weeks of shipping—this should be taken into consideration when enrolling. Course is available on DVD. FSA Farm Loan Managers are notified of borrower's progress and score upon completion.

DVD— Cost $300

You will need a television or computer for DVD. Your course materials will include a spiral course book, a DVD, homework exercises and envelopes to mail your assignments back in to be graded. Contact information to schedule additional assistance with an instructor are
